Michael Piggot
Agent/Owner, Piggot Insurance Agency

If calling Piggot Insurance Agency feels like talking with a neighbor or relative, that's because they're sort of both. Established in 2008, the group is family-owned and operated, and it shows in their intimate knowledge of what people in the area need, and their warm, friendly customer service.

"We become close with our clients. We chat, we laugh, and you can tell the difference," said owner Michael Piggot. "You feel like you've actually talked to a human about insurance. You understand it all, and when you do you don't worry about it."

But, Piggot understands what matters most: the best rates for each client. And that's what his office can offer better than any one insurance company or a person searching for rates on their own.

The independent agency represents up to 15 companies covering auto, home and businesses insurance, and quotes them all at once. "That means they're all competing for your business," Piggot explained.

He also knows each company's strong points to match with the needs of different clients. When it comes to homeowner's insurance, for example, Piggot can consider which companies are more kid-friendly or elder-friendly, or are best for different types of houses.

"We know their guidelines and issue what's best for everyone," he explained.

That mix of industry savvy and personal service has earned the Piggot Insurance Agency the Best of Bucks Award four years running.

"We're small but mighty," said Piggot.
